Since the beginning of time, famous artists have been the top dogs in the world of music. They've built their careers off their work, earned their reputation and received critical acclaim for their ability to make music. But in the modern world, musicians can very easily make it without going through the traditional routes of being a famous artist. No matter how famous their sound, today's musicians can make a living doing what they love best - making music. One musician who has done just that is Dan Dan. He's a singer and songwriter whose music is a melting pot of folk, pop, rap, and more. Though his music takes place in the 21st century, it still has old world charm that grabs listeners by the heartstrings. Dan's songs draw on his extensive experience in business and community leadership, but unlike a lot of other musicians
