COM CLAMOR KUMABIN. vimeo.New Delhi: A 49-year-old man, accused in a major case related to alleged fraud in allotment of jobs, allegedly consumed poison at a city hotel on Monday. According to a complaint lodged by the complainant with the New Delhi Police Crime Branch, Shyam Singh had consumed poison in the hotel and died on the way to hospital. The reason for his suicide is not yet known. The complainant, who is a resident of Delhi and worked with a private company that received the benefits of one of the government schemes, alleged that Singh was promised a seat in an examination that was going to be conducted in November. He submitted documents in the police station and also provided a letter written by a manager of the company in which he alleged that job promotions were being pushed through fraud. An inquiry into the matter has been initiated by the police and a preliminary report is expected to be submitted in two weeks. Following the incident, it was learnt that Singh had booked a room at the hotel under the name of another man, Ram Kishore, who was staying with him as a Methylmalonyl-CoA-isomerase (MIM) deficiency is an autosomal recessive metabolic disease characterized by severe ketotic hypoglycemia. Two mutations in the MMACHC gene, C910T and G1203A, were previously identified in two independent families, with children without MIM deficiency carrying them. We here provide evidence that both mutations, identified in five Japanese patients, were previously reported also in other populations. The significance of C910T remains unclear, while G1203A is clearly deleterious. S. A. van Kerkwijk and R. V. E. Lovelace, Nature [415]{}, 284 (2002). D. F. Rodríguez and J. A. Pons, Phys. Rev.
