Severity: 16, State: 5. My application pool is running as mydomain\mylogin. I have granted all privileges to mylogin. When I view my database properties, and enable the database server-side trace the option "TsqlAdminUser" is blank. When the trace runs it does not list my login as the "trace.exe" user. I have also tried: grant dbcreator to mydomain\mylogin. grant trace to mydomain\mylogin. I have also tried to logon as mylogin, and mylogin@mydomain. Does anyone have any suggestions? A: Does the service account or the application pool identity exist in the sysadmins group and execute rights are granted for trace? The use of ionizing radiation for the detection and identification of microorganisms is well known in the art. In one prior art method, fluorescent or luminescent substances are added to microorganisms, which is then illuminated with ultraviolet (UV) light so that the added substances are excited and emit fluorescence, which may then be detected. In another well-
